

A ROMANCE OF THE LEGISLATURE

Gov. Carter, of Hawaii, got into a discussion with Senator Depew about the platform to be adopted at the convention.

"Well, it doesn't make any difference to us in Hawaii what sort of platform is adopted here," declared the governor, "for we have a platform of our own there, and it does not make silver or the tariff or any of those things the issue. Cremation is the burning question with us, although the Democrats started it. They got the idea they could win on that sort of a platform. The people of Hawaii have a horror of cremation, and so the Democrats started the report that the Republicans favored cremation. The fight was a hot one, and in the last election of our local legislative body the Democrats won, and there was more fun. The opposition got together and framed an anti-cremation bill, and the delegates wrangled. Finally one old delegate made the objection that the bill did not inflict any violation penalty, and he said no law would be obeyed when no penalty was imposed for non-obedience. Then another delegate, who favored the bill, offered an amendment to imprison for six months any man who should be cremated. The amendment was carried, and now we are going to have the fight all over again in the territory.

"It doesn't make any difference what the platform here may be, I know what the platform will be in Hawaii."—Seattle Post-Intelligencer.

THE GIRL CUT PUGILIST DEAD

Jack Weday, pugilist and former champion of the Islands, the man who started Dave Barry on his proud career by making himself a martyr to that fighter's prowess, has come to grief at last. And there is a woman in the case. It is alleged that Weday met a pretty Porto Rican maiden on the street Sunday and that she did not deign to notice him or bow. This so hurt the pride of the ex-champion that according to the story told by the police he proceeded to grasp the helpless girl by the throat and choke her into politeness. As a result Jack is in durance vile with time to reflect on his bad manners. He will probably appear in court this morning.

Reckless Riding.

A reckless rider tried to ride down Judge Dole yesterday afternoon. As the judge and another gentleman were approaching the court house the man came tearing down the street. As the two pedestrians were engaged in conversation they did not see the rider until he was upon them. With great presence of mind Judge Dole grasped the bridle and held on so firmly that the horse was almost thrown on its haunches. The name of the horseman could not be learned.

Concert at the Annex.

The Hawaiian Government band will play tomorrow evening at the Hawaiian Hotel Annex, Waikiki. The concert will be given on the lawn beneath the trees where there are ample accommodations for a large number of spectators. Being a moonlight night and the concert given so near the water, the Annex on these occasions is a very popular place to spend the evening.
